“Citrix does an outstanding job in courseware development. I used to do a lot of Microsoft training – I worked with both. Citrix offers a lot of hands-on experience inside the classroom. It’s almost impossible to walk out of the classroom without feeling like you can take on the role of administrator or engineer after Citrix training.”

Russ Schlosser, RSA Learning Center, USA

“I took Citrix courses, and I can say that these courses helped me understand Citrix technologies and develop business opportunities with the company I work for. Thanks to the courses I took, I am able to explain to customers how the products work and also how they can get the most value from Citrix solutions.”
